Democratic State Ticket.

For Clerk of the Court of Appeals,

THOS. J. HENRY,

OF MORGAN COUNTY.

Brother Barnes predicts the coming of Christ in 1887.

Wm. Ellis has made another confession and now says Neal and Craft are innocent of the A-hind murders. A notary public took down his statement.

Sam K. Banes, a Louisville compositor, has written a volume of poems. The book is just out and is entitled "Ripples on the stream of Doxy."

Dr. C. C. Graham, a nonagenarian of Louisville has made affidavit to the fact that he was present at the marriage of the parents of Abraham Lincoln.

It is announced that Dr. B. Gaines will shortly move the Palmetto Enterprise to Louisville and start a three-cent morning paper to be called the World.

Guilford is rising in price for hand clothes. He was at first willing to take $150, but last week he refused $350 and was almost insulted at the offer.

Two young men at Troy, Alabama, have been sued for breach of promise for their fitted sweaters. One of the broken hearts is valued at $25,000 and the other at $20,000.

Representative House, of Tennessee, voted against the anti-polygamy bill recently passed by Congress and the Ingham Clarksville Tobacco Leaf wants to know his reasons for so doing.

Petitions for the pardon of Mason equaled to four in upon the President from all parts of the country. Mason is reported as having said "I don't want to be pardoned by no Quilman President."

The man who will strive to pull his neighbor down by vilifying and misrepresenting him or his business in order to pull himself up, is lacking in principle and honor and cannot be watched too closely.

Gray, Blackburn voted the Phoenix Loan and Building Association bill upon the ground that it lays a snare for the poor by holding out promises of large gains from small investments. Shike, Governor, shake. Once more we are with you.

The floods in the South are still beginning to subside. Thousands of people are now being sustained by rations supplied by the government and charity. Hundreds are left in a starving condition, their houses, provisions, stock, and everything swept away by the cruel waves.

The first number of the Southern Progress, the new Republican paper just issued at Bowling Green, lies upon our table. It is edited by Mr. W. E. Hughes who wields the pen like he understood the business. The paper is an eight column sheet and is neat and tasty in its get up.

All is not lovely with the Republican party in Christian county. The next gate that sweeps through their ranks "will bring to our ears the crash of receding armies." Like the enterprising reporter who stationed himself at the broken bridge to get the facts when the train went over, we stand ready to chronicle the events that another week will bring forth.

The heads of two more of Garfield's cabinet will drop into the basket this week. It is announced upon good authority that the President will send the name of Senator Teller to the Senate to succeed Kirkwood as Secretary of the Interior. Hunt, Secretary of the Navy, will also be superseded by Wm. E. Chandler. This will leave Lincoln the "sole survivor" of Garfield's Cabinet.

We notice from the Henderson Reporter that Mr. Zeno P. Young, President of the W. K. P. A., has been tendered a free excursion for that body, by Col. Robt. Meek the Superintendent of the new Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern Railroad. President Young will probably call a meeting sometime about the first of June and a trip will be taken to Memphis over the new road. We heartily endorse the idea. It is necessary to hold a meeting sometime soon, and while the main object would be the transaction of business it would not be a bad idea to mix in a little pleasure and the trip spoken of would certainly be a very pleasant one to take.

About the first of the year Prof. Jno. M. Klein, who discovered Klein's large comet last year, announced that a new comet would appear about the last of February. He was ridiculed when it failed to appear promptly on time, but when the comet became visible two weeks later there were half a dozen scientists ready to claim its discovery. The new comet is undoubtedly the discovery of Prof. Klein. It is a small but bright one and can only be seen with a good instrument. It is three or four degrees north of the star Omicron in Hercules, and is traveling slowly northward. It rises about 10 o'clock in the evening.

The Re-apportionment.

The re-apportionment committee of the General Assembly has reported the following bill:

1. It is enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Kentucky, That for the purpose of choosing eleven members of the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States under the tenth census, the State shall be divided into eleven districts, in each of which one member shall be elected. The districts shall be composed of the counties of Fulton, Hickman, Ballard, McCracken, Marshall, Livingston, Lyon, Graves, Callaway, Frigg, and Christian.

The several districts shall be composed of the counties of Crittenden, Caldwell, Hopkins, Webster, Union, Henderson, McLean, Davies and Ohio.

The third district shall be composed of the counties of Muhlenberg, Todd, Logan, Butler, Edmonson, Warren, Simpson, Allen, Monroe, Cumberland, and Clinton.

The fourth district shall be composed of the counties of Hancock, Breckinridge, Grayson, Harlan, Meade, Hall, Nelson, Washington, Marion, and Letcher.

The fifth district shall be composed of the counties of Jefferson and Oldham.

The sixth district shall be composed of the counties of Trimble, Carroll, Gallatin, Boone, Kenton, Grant, Pendleton, and Campbell.

The seventh district shall be composed of the counties of Henry, Owen, Franklin, Scott, Harrison, Bourbon, Fayette, Jessamine and Woodford.

The eighth district shall be composed of the counties of Shelby, Spencer, Anderson, Mercer, Boyle, Barrard, Lincoln, Rockcastle, Madison, Estill, Jackson, Clay, Owsley and Laurel.

The ninth district shall be composed of the counties of Bracken, Robertson, Nicholas, Bath, Fleming, Mason, Lewis, Rowan, Carter, Greenup, Boyd, Lawrence, Johnson, and Martin.

The tenth district shall be composed of the counties of Clark, Montgomery, Madison, Powell, Lee, Breathitt, Wolfe, Morgan, Elliott, Magoffin, Floyd, Pike, Letcher, Perry, Leslie, Knott, Bell, and Harlan.

The eleventh district shall be composed of the counties of Hart, Butler, Unicoi, Adams, Green, Taylor, Casey, Russell, Wayne, Pulaski, and Whitley.

2. This act shall take effect from its passage.

It will be seen that Christian is taken from the Second and put into the First District, while Muhlenberg is put into the Third. The bill may be amended, as a minority report has been made which provides for the following changes, from the majority report: Christian from the First to the Second as now; Muhlenberg from the Third to the Second as now; Grayson from the Fourth to the Third; Cumberland and Clinton from the Third to the Eleventh; the bill will probably come up and be acted upon in a day or two.

The Turnpike Bill.

The turnpike bill for this county has passed both Houses of the Legislature and now only needs the signature of the Governor to become a law. The bill met with strong opposition, but was passed by a good vote. The Yeomans of Friday had this to say in regard to a motion to reconsider:

The Christian county road tax bill brought out a warm discussion in the Senate yesterday. It came up upon Mr. Alden's motion, to reconsider the vote by which the bill had passed. Mr. Pratt moved to take up the motion, and Mr. Alden responded about twenty-five minutes in reviewing the measure and showing where it was objectionable, and how to operate unjustly upon a number of citizens of Christian county. Mr. Pratt replied in support of the bill, holding that it would work no injustice to any person, and that it granted no privilege to any class or party.

Yeas: Robbins, Rich, and Hays followed on the same side, and Messrs. Monday and Hays spoke in opposition. The Senate refused to reconsider.

The bill will therefore be submitted to the people and they can vote the tax, or defeat it, just as they please.

The Legislative Apportionment Committee has reported a bill that makes eleven Democratic districts by majorities ranging from 700 to 7,000. The Republicans have no right to complain if the Democrats were guilty of some gerrymandering in laying off the districts. It is a precedent they themselves have established wherever and whenever an opportunity has been presented. The districts are not as shapely as they might be, but the object in the main was to get them all Democratic. Upon general principles we do not endorse such action even in our own party, but it sometimes becomes necessary to "fight the devil with fire."

All is too soon, extend far in love, war and politics and the Republicans have no more right to complain of the misfortune of politics than one army had to complain of advantages the other may have gained by military strategies during the war. The Republicans ought not to have expected anything else from a Democratic Legislature and Democrats would certainly expect nothing else from a Republican Legislature. It is a custom practiced by both parties to take every possible advantage.

NONSENSE.

It makes any the small boy like the dog often reaches the same age.

When you read this column expect to find it full of nonsense. It is a collection of the criticisms of a few self-appointed censors, this column will be discontinued.

Don't you ladies in Boston ride bicycles. One by one, man is deprived of his exclusive rights and privileges.

The Political Beacon speaks of "true blue" Republicans. They will all be "blue" after the annual defeat next August.

The question "Has Gov. Blackburn exceeded the pardoning power too freely?" will be settled by a debating society at Harford, Ky.

We have received a proposition from Mr. L. Gump to insert a column in his leading type and take in payment $2 worth of wood cuts. Mr. Gump is appropriately named.

The South Kentuckian just received is one of the newest papers coming to this office. It is almost a second Detroit Free Press in wit and humor.

We are indebted to the "risky" editor of the Harford College News for the above compliment.

The Henderson Reporter says the editor of the Suburban Sunbeam can jump eleven feet without a running start. Hopkinsville can beat that. Geo. M. Cole, who published the Republican here last year, jumped $1,000 in debt and then jumped the town.

The papers are now busy saying nice things about Dan O'Sullivan, who has recently been promoted to the position of dramatic critic for the Courier-Journal. He deserves all the praise they choose to bestow upon him, but there is some "unwritten history" connected with the Ashland press meeting two years ago, that would show that quiet driving is not the only thing that Daniel has succeeded in.

After the Governor.

Mr. W. P. Walton, editor of the Standard Interior Journal, is after Gov. Blackburn with a sharp stick. In a personal difficulty last October, a young man drew a pistol and attempted to shoot Mr. Walton. An application was made to the Governor for a pardon for the young man, who was indicted for carrying concealed weapons, and Mr. Walton was informed that the Governor used the following language: "I told him that my rule was not to pardon before conviction and I would not violate it in this case, but if he had killed that d-d son of a b--h Walton, I would pardon him before indictment or conviction."

Mr. Walton sent a registered letter to the Governor inquiring if the statement was true. He waited two weeks and receiving no answer from the Executive he proceeded, in the last issue of his paper, to give publicity to the whole affair. His card is a dispassionate statement of the facts. If the Governor used the language attributed to him, he is guilty of not only trying to restrict the freedom of the press but of offering a reward for crime and he should be required to show cause why he should not be impeached.

America's Greatest Post Dead.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the greatest poet America has ever produced, died at his home in Cambridge, Mass., Friday, March 24, aged 75 years and 25 days.

He had been in failing health for many months, but his severe illness began only about a week before his death.

He was born in Portland, Me., Feb. 27, 1807, and began to write poetry at the age of 15 years. He has written some of the most poetical productions in existence and his poems entitle him to rank with the greatest poets of modern times. His name is not confined to his own country. "The Psalm of Life," "The Song of Hiawatha," "The Courtship of Miles Standish" and others of his poems are familiar to the educated people wherever the English language is spoken.

The news of his death was sorrowfully received in England and elsewhere. As soon as it was made known, the people of Cambridge were overwhelmed with sorrow, which rapidly spread to all parts of the country.

The Congressional Apportionment bill as reported and as published in another column, is not at all satisfactory to the people of Western Kentucky. Mr. McKim is treated with great unfairness and Christian is put into the First District when there is no reason for it whatever.

Two counties are taken from the First and put into the Second in place of Christian, and we can see no reason for this, unless it is that there is a desire to get Mr. McKim out of the way of other aspiring would-be Congressmen in the Second District.

We trust the bill will be amended, as proposed by Mr. Mahlen, Muhlenberg is put into a District where she does not want to be, and Grayson is taken out of one against her will. It is true that no plan will give universal satisfaction, but where changes are made that do not affect the Democratic majority in either District, and for no ostensible reason but to promote the interests of some man, or set of men, we think those treated unfairly have a right to complain and to demand their rights.

The grand jury found 75 indictments in Muhlenberg county.
